President's Message January, 2010

Happy New Year!

It's hard to believe we're already 10 years into the Millenium!

What a decade this has been... and what a year, as well! With the economy challenging us to be more creative in how we manage our resources, we've been given many opportunities to expand our horizons, often in unexpected ways. Hopefully, we'll continue to grow even more generous with our time and energy as we tighten our financial belts.

We had a wonderful holiday party last month! The skies opened up with a torrential rainstorm just hours before, but blessed us with a rainbow as the rains subsided just in time for everyone to arrive and enjoy the evening. Sandi Wilks and her assistants Diane Jansen and Betty Hyde decorated the room with the help of several others: Leona Crump, Penny Fedorchak, Pattie Lee Fontaine, Luanne Gattegno, Tamra Gerard, Sisko Haikala, Don Hambric, Jean Herrick, Lydia and Matt Moore, Jeanette Jensen, Jan and Manny Ortega, Milly Ratermann, Phee Sherline, plus myself and my dear husband, Larry.

Mary Fay Pendleton Elementary School's retired principal, Lynn Gilstrap, was our invited guest. She was barely able to find room in her car for all the wonderful gifts of art supplies that everyone donated for the children at Camp Pendleton!

Bev Thordarson was presented a $100 check for winning the People's Choice for her beautiful pastel painting, "The Road." A drawing was held and several people walked away with wonderful art supplies. A 4-piece band played while we dined and danced the evening away. All-in-all, it was a special time to reconnect with old and new FAA friends.

We're only a few months away from our big Open Juried Show, to be held in the Fallbrook Art Center. Be sure to get some special artwork ready for it! We are hoping someone will volunteer to apprentice with Jon Harwood and Bill Riedell so they can finally retire from heading the show committee this year. Please call them and ask about that position. It's really a lot of fun!

I'm looking forward to continuing to serve you as your president for the rest of my term and am hoping to train one of you as my successor in 2010-11. Please let me know I can count on you by volunteering to take on this extremely satisfying position... or some other one as an officer or head of one of our committees.

Warmly, Karen Langer Baker

MOLLY LIPSHER

Molly Lipsher grew up in West Haven, Connecticut and has lived in Ithaca, New York; Cambridge, Massachusetts; and Manhattan. She attended Bard College, University of Connecticut, Cornell, and Harvard, where she earned a master's degree in landscape architecture.

Molly has hitchhiked across North Africa, and lived for months on a beach in Marrakech, Morocco, and in Corfu, Greece. Her jobs have included working the counter in Kentucky Fried Chicken, selling magazine subscriptions, counting nematodes, studying the infection characteristics of measles, selecting the location for General Motors Saturn plant, designing playgrounds, managing construction, and providing real estate investment strategies for the country's largest investment banks.

She has been a professor at Pratt Institute, Marymount College and Touro College.

She currently lives in Cardiff, California where she paints and writes award winning poetry. She shows her work in New York and California, and teaches landscape painting workshops for pastel.

"I believe places have a perceptible soul, imbued by layer upon layer of cultural, physical and historical impact. These aspects of place converge with the more temporal elements of light, location and time to capture my imagination. I attempt to interpret this soul, the layering of elements that makes each place and moment unique, however unattainable and impossible to duplicate in art.

Painting the landscape allows me to ground myself in a particular place and time. It is a moment of true connection with the mysterious spirit of light, and the unexplainable incarnation of "things". To plant oneself in a location is to become like a plant itself, experiencing the passage of the sun, the warmth and cold, the dappling of light and its disappearance. As an artist, recording this, in the moment of its occurrence, you become a crucial part of the process. There is a certain comfort in that, that stopping of trying to understand what is not understandable, and a transition occurs to the pure experience of it, the participation in it. Then I begin to paint, to take it under my skin. "

Molly Lipsher

Please bring a box dinner or snack to eat during the critique.

WORKSHOP

The Molly Lipsher Workshop will be on January 17th and will be en Plein Air (if weather permits).

Brandon Gallery Showcases Fallbrook Art Association's Officers and Ctte Chairs

FAA's: "Art Show, Featuring Officers and Chairs" will run in Brandon's Etcetera Gallery January 1 through January 31, 2010. Sunday, January 10, from 1 to 4PM, FAA hosts a reception at Brandon Gallery, 105 N. Main, Fallbrook, CA, 92028.

According to Karen Langer Baker, FAA President: "We've set this show as a way to honor the fine work and efforts of volunteer members of the association who participate and organize the many activities we have throughout the year that advance Fallbrook as a destination community for art patrons. Among several FAA projects throughout the year are two annual juried shows at the Fallbrook Art Center, monthly demonstrations of art and workshops by renowned artists and scholarships to promising artists from local high schools.

Fallbrook Brandon Gallery (www.fallbrookbrandongallery.org), 105 N. Main St., one door off Alvarado in the Village of Fallbrook, is a non-profit artists' co-operative with 27 members representing many major creative disciplines. Each month member and guest artists from San Diego and Riverside counties display hundreds of pieces of art that include textiles and sculpture, jewelry and gourd art, oil and acrylic paintings, watercolors and pastels, greeting cards,

Farmer's Market

As you may have heard, there will be a Farmers Market every Sunday beginning September 6th from 11 AM to 3 PM. It will be set up in the Village Square and in the Caffe Primo parking lot. We have a wonderful mix of vendors participating including certified farmers, food vendors and crafts. As a promotional outreach, funded by the Fallbrook Village Association, we would like to include one artist at each Sunday Market. You will receive a space, free of charge, to set up, demonstrate and sell your work. Artists will be chosen on a first come/first serve basis. If you would be interested in participating, please contact Jeannie Hathaway at 760-723-8384 or 760 390 9726 (cell) or email jeannie@deadlinedata.com for scheduling and additional details.

NEW "SHOWS" CHAIR NEEDED FOR 2010

Bill Riedell and Jon Harwood, who have been chairing our two major annual shows for a long, long time, have given notice that next year's Spring Open Juried Show will be their last. They have offered to train and work closely with whoever takes over the job in Fall 2010 so the transition will be smooth and relatively easy. Jon will be available to work the show with the new chair(s) so that a full show of hands on training will be available.

If you are interested and would like to be considered for this extremely important position, please contact them as soon as possible. Either call Jon at 760-728-0453 or Bill at 760-940-4290 so you can begin apprenticing right away!.

DORLAND ARTS COLONY

IS BACK IN BUSINESS!

Special One-Time Offer

Beginning January 1st through May 31st, 2010, we will be selecting artists for residencies, without having to go through the normal review process. It is our intention to reach out into the Southern California community of artists. We are seeking artists who want to enjoy a rare opportunity to work in a completely distraction-free natural environment, in a word, our "Sanctuary." Visit www.dorlandartscolony.org, and print out the application and guidelines. You may send them to our P.O. Box 6, Temecula, CA 92593 address or via email if you have that capability. Residencies are scheduled on a first-come first-served basis. If you have any questions feel free to call (951)302-3837 or email us at info@dorlandartscolony.org.

UPDATE ON FAA MEETINGS AND GUIDELINES

FAA meets on the second Monday evening of every month, September through June, at the Fallbrook Public Utility Department building, 990 E. Mission, Fallbrook. The meetings, which always include a demonstration by a different renowned artist each month, begin at 7 pm, with a critique session led by that artist from 5:30 'til 6:30 pm. Refreshments are served and the public is welcome at no charge. A space in the workshop, which the artist conducts at FPUd on the Sunday following the meeting, can be reserved during the demonstration. The cost for members to attend the full day workshop is $30, and non-members pay $40.

FAA's fiscal year runs from July 1 through June 30. Annual dues are $35 for one person or $40 for a family (two adults plus children in the household). There are other memberships available as well, such as life membership for a one-time payment of $300 and a Patron membership for $100, of which $65 is tax deductible.

Our website is www.fallbrookartassn.org. Newsletters are archived there and applications for membership are on the last page of every newsletter. People are welcome to join at a meeting or send in their application to FAA, PO Box 382, Fallbrook 92088.

FAA is known for its annual Open Juried Show in the spring and its Open Judged Show in the fall, both held at the Fallbrook Art Center. The Open Juried Show attracts artists from everywhere and is highly selective. The Open Judged Show enables everyone to have their work exhibited. Membership is not an entry requirement in either show, and many cash prizes are awarded at both shows.

5th and 6th graders at Mary Fay Pendleton Elementary School enjoy frequent art classes taught by FAA members. FAA also awards cash scholarships to graduating Fallbrook Union High School students plus cash prizes to artists at the San Diego Fair's Fine Art Show. Several members teach art classes and workshops, which are promoted in our newsletter.

Contact people change every year, but are always listed on the second page of FAA's monthly newsletter. As you will see there, I'm the current president. Our current membership chair is Don Klinger and our current publicity chair is Peg Klinger. Members are listed in a yearly directory and can choose to receive the newsletter by mail or access it online at www.fallbrookartassn.org.
